

A Divine Message of Hope and Love

“One Thought Away”

I want to share the entire writing from October 6, 2020 with you — my prayer portion, as well as the Lord’s reply through the Holy Spirit. It was so “refreshing.” I was invigorated having received the message; I hope it will be the same for you.

Debbie’s prayer: “Lord, we are in the Feast of Tabernacles, a time when we are to focus on all You have done for Your people - keeping Your promises. We have a list of blessings that you have provided us this year (we keep those on our refrigerator.) There are so many and we are so thankful. It is so good to get projects done and gather in all that You have provided. Lord, what else would You like us to do with the website? Any special message? The next message I am planning is about Chastisement and Judgement.”

The Lord’s response through the Holy Spirit: “Debbie, Do you hear Me? Do you hear Me? Do you really, really hear Me? Know how much I love you and My people. Debbie, as you sit on the edge of your couch, what is it that you are thinking about? Is it your health - the exhaustion that seems to always plague you? Is it the lack of money? Is it your desire to know My will better?”

I know that you know I am only one thought away from you throughout your day. You have chosen to put Me at the forefront of all your desires. Whether it is to seek Me for an answer to a question. Maybe, it is you need strength to do something that you don’t think you can do. Could it be you need help with dealing with your emotions or a situation you can’t grasp how to control or overcome? Maybe, you just want to chit chat and there is no one around to listen to your concerns, ideas, or celebrate a small victory that you have achieved. Debbie, where do you go when there is no one who seems to understand or has time to listen to your pain or your longings?

Debbie, you have sought the One who is always ready to listen; the One who knows you better than you know yourself; the One who waits with open arms for you to run to/to reach out to as a child reaches for its loving parent; the One who longs for you to reach out to Him as much as you desire for Him to reach out to you; the One who is willing and desires to show you secrets and treasures that you don’t even know exists; the One who desires and receives all that you are willing to give with you understanding you can always say “no” to a request, but who so delights when you say, “yes”; the One who is never, ever too busy when you need to chat; the One who is so delighted when you make a step in Faith, trusting, overcoming a sense/possibility of failure to be/do what you have been created to be/do.

This is the way of those who seek Me with their whole heart, mind, and soul. They know in My strength they can do all things and I will never leave them nor forsake them. Difficulties will come. And, I am always one thought away - waiting with open arms - a Heavenly Father waiting for His child. That’s what I want my children to know.”
