

BRACE FOR IMPACT!

Prepare! Prepare! Prepare!

It was late in the evening, during our time in self isolation due to Covid-19, that I decided to “click” on a YouTube channel using our ROKU called, “The Prophets Speak, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=s6kFmZb02n0> by Jerrod L. Cooper of the UK, #42 in a series, where I found a most beautifully done “spoken word of prophecy,” introduced as from Nate and Christy Johnston which began about 15 minutes into the video. The first of the video was also amazing, as well. But it was the words that Christy spoke about 17 min. into the video that really got my attention: “Stand Still. Brace for Impact.” It was then that I remembered, too, having the Lord share “Brace for Impact” with me years ago and what effect it had on me then and was having on me hearing those words again. I remember the hours of conversation with my husband that ensued after I received that writing* and what impact it had on us to prepare. It birthed a sense of urgency in us, then. I have four “Brace” writings to share with you, but first, I want to share another writing from that time.

From 7/28/2010: “Do you hear Me, Debbie? Do you hear Me? Do you really, really hear Me? Today is a day like many yet like none experienced before. Before you, looking out your window, you see blessings in abundance. In your garden, you have already harvested blessings in abundance. When you look, you are surrounded by blessings in abundance—some you have planted and cultivated yourself; others were seed you did not plant, but are able to benefit and be blessed more than abundantly having been led by the Lord, your God, the Creator of the Universe.

In order to appreciate what one has been given, one must desire or have a need for what is provided. If there is no desire for or need of, one does not see the blessings before them. I was hungry and you fed me. I was naked and you provided clothes for me. I was thirsty and you quenched my thirst. These are all examples of someone who has a need (physical) and another who met the need. They are also examples of folks who are in spiritual need. Those who are hungry for the truth, but they don’t know it. They are thirsty for wisdom and understanding that only I can give, but they don’t know it. They are naked in their iniquity having no understanding of righteousness with no sense of My love for them. If I brought them as they are to a place where they were surrounded abundantly with blessings, they would seek after what the world has to give them and never see the blessings that abundantly surround them. They would never realize I provided the abundant blessing to them and never know, as a result, My love for them.

When evil unleashes its fury on the unsuspecting, the worst day in your nation’s history.... When “what was” is no longer and “what will be” is far in their futures .... When all seems lost and it seems darkness has overcome the light, a New Day is birthed. It will be in the New Day that My people will SOAR**. They will hear from Me and I will heal their land. But from “what is” to “what will be” is a journey of Trust and Faith that must be journeyed by all My people. It is a time of cleansing and renewing, of setting My people apart, strengthening them, preparing them, equipping, training, practicing, testing and commissioning them to fulfill what they were created to be/do.

During this time, they will need encouragement and Hope to do what they have never done before, to believe as they have never believed before, to open their eyes to see what they have never seen before, and to open their ears to hear what they have never heard before, but most of all, open their hearts to receive what they don’t know exists.”

*Writings—I have over 40 lbs of Legal size yellow tablet paper of handwritten writings provided to me by the Lord through the Holy Spirit.

** SOAR—when the creation will be/do what the Creator has created the creation to be/do.

From 3/15/2009: "... Do you hear Me, Debbie? Do you hear Me? Do you really, really hear Me? Debbie, Get Ready. Brace. Get Ready. Brace. Get Ready. Brace. What was not possible is about to explode. Destruction and Devastation like you cannot imagine is just a moment in time away from happening. It will take place on the most beautiful, crisp morning. It will come with the force of many atom bombs, but will leave behind ash, only. This will be a day unlike any you could possibly imagine, but will be like many you have experienced. I will be with you and together we will overcome. The hoof beats* you have heard in the distance get closer and closer as each day passes. What you need will become less and less available as days pass.

When all around you is in chaos and confusion, look out your windows and see all the Blessings. I have brought you to this place of safety, of tranquility, and peace. I have prepared you: equipped, trained, practiced, tested, and commissioned you. I have given you and shown you I keep My promises to you. Though the enemy be encamped about you, I will keep you safe. Cover/Shelter. Cover/Shelter. Cover/Shelter until the day when order is restored and routines return. And listen for the Song that My people will sing (Debbie adds: this was also mentioned in other writings and the video—above.) Joy will replace doubt and unbelief. And Love and Hope will fill their hearts overflowing. It will be a day of renewal of the mind, regeneration of their way of life, and revitalization of their Spirits. It will be a great day: a New Day. All I have promised I will do. ...."

From a writing 3/12/2010: "... Do you hear Me, Debbie? Do you hear Me? Do you really, really hear Me? Brace, Debbie. Brace, for what you never wanted to see. Brace, for the worst day in your nation's history. The dark cloud of evil is upon your nation. What you can't see with your eyes does not mean it doesn't exist. Yours is a mission of Awakening. Wake up those who will stampede from the canyon of unbelief as they realize what was never meant to happen, has indeed happened. With eyes filled with panic/mania, overwhelming fear and anger they will emerge from their stupor of a false sense of security. Their lives no longer lived by schedules and other ways of the world will be replaced with searching and seeking the basic needs of life where days were filled with every minute consumed by what they thought mattered—convenience—their days will be consumed with finding food, safety and security. All they knew will no longer help them as they struggle to find what they do not know exists.

When all they were (positions and titles) is no longer of any use to get what they need they will be lost without understanding and knowledge. As truth is revealed (made apparent,) hopes, dreams, desires, plans, and projects will be turned into ash. Ash will cover everything. A symbol of the falling world system will fall as dust on those who have been in bondage to the world system. Smiles and happiness will be a dim memory, replaced by desolation, disappointment, discouragement, heartache and heart break. Fear will encapsulate the once thought strongest and wisest. It will be those who know the love of their Lord and Father in Heaven who will have Hope in the midst of what others can't even describe.

.... When others are running to and fro, searching and seeking just for the basics of life, you will be safe and secure in My hands; having listened and prepared. What you fear most is as close as a minute to a hundred years (Debbie adds: a reference to an EMP.) Evil has planned it. Men who are deceived will cause it. And life as you have lived it will cease, but the Father in Heaven has a plan to prosper those who listen. .... Stand Strong."

* Hoof beats—See Writing "Approaching Horses..." at this website.

And this is the earliest writing regarding “Brace for Impact,” from 9/19/2007 that had such a profound impact on us: “... Debbie, do you know Me? Do you really, really know Me? Then know that you know what you know. It is with great sorrow that I share with you that which you already know. The fear—the thing that you have feared the most, looms on the horizon. The plans have been set in place and put in motion and you are coasting into the depths of the largest tragedy to take place in your America on a given day. Life will end as you know it. Desperation, Destruction, Devastation, Disruption will be felt across the land and beyond. This too shall pass. The pain of sorrow and loss will eventually be replaced with Joy and Hope.

Are you ready? Are you ready? Are you ready? BRACE for Impact. Are you ready? Are you ready? Are you ready? BRACE for Impact. Are you ready? Are you ready? Are you ready? BRACE for Impact. I will never leave you nor forsake you. You have My promises of protection for both you and Jimmy. BRACE. BRACE. BRACE.

Each minute that passes brings you closer to the point of that, that you most feared. It is not a coward who desires not to see their nation pulled into a major tragedy. It is one who has studied the ways of God’s justice who can see the cloud looming, growing darker and darker with evil each minute by minute. It is the Compassion Warrior/ette that sees beyond the tragedy that life continues with Hope—Hope to overflowing. .... Prepare for Impact. Fill yourself with Hope, Overflowing.”

And from 9/3/2007: “... Do you know Me? Do you know Me? Do you really, really know Me? Then know I know you. Today is a day like many yet like none experienced before. Today is a day for new beginnings.

Brace yourself, for life as you know it is to change very quickly.

Brace yourself as a New Day begins as suddenly as a morning Sunrise.

Brace yourself as food for today will be plentiful and food for tomorrow will be rationed.

Brace yourself as life as you know it becomes life much different.

Brace yourself ....

Brace yourself for today’s ease will be tomorrow’s difficulties.

Brace yourself with Hope to overflowing. Brace yourself with Hope to overflowing. Brace yourself with Hope to overflowing.

Brace yourself—the winds have begun to blow.

Brace yourself - the time to finish all preparations is NOW.

Brace yourself - the rain will soon begin to fall.

Brace yourself - the wind will reveal itself.

Brace yourself - the midnight cloud is about to let loose its fury.

Brace yourself - all you know, your current life, will cease to be and a new life will emerge—better than you can imagine.

Brace yourself, Debbie. Brace yourself. Brace yourself. The darkness of despair will be overwhelming.

Fill yourself overflowing with Hope. Fill yourself overflowing with Hope. Fill yourself overflowing with Hope.”

Debbie

Also—Note: The “Divine Message of Hope and Love ...” found at this website, dated 3/20/2020, first line, paragraph 3, “Life as you have lived it has changed ...,” indicating we have not reached a time when “life as lived it will cease.”
