

Words of Comfort, Love and Hope, Overflowing
from our Heavenly Father to all His children throughout the Globe
(from my writings titled "Tell Them")

I will give you strength when you need strength.

I will give you all you need as you need it.

I will fulfill all I have promised you.

Trust me, and I'll trust you to carry out my desires for you.

I am here. No matter how many times a day you need to talk, I am waiting, waiting with anticipation of what you have to share.

I am here. Cry as many tears as necessary to rid the pain of feeling abandoned or unworthy.

I am here. Let me hear about your defeats, your hurts, exasperations, and frustrations.

I am always ready to listen.

I am here. I will comfort you in your pain and I will rejoice with you in your successes. And, yes, there will be successes.

To know me is to trust me. To trust me is to have hope. To have hope is to have Life, Eternal.

In the midst of the ordinary, there is extraordinary.

In the midst of calamity, there is order.

In the midst of the coldest of nights, there is warmth.

In the midst of those who act out of their self nature, there is tranquility and compassion.

In the midst of the most ferocious storm, there is solitude and safety.

In the midst of an overwhelming task, there is comfort.

In the midst of pain, there is healing.

In the midst of death, there is life.

In the midst of the worst situation you can imagine, there is good.

You see, you can focus by the world's perspective and difficulties, disappointments, discouragements will overtake your life. Or you can trust Me, your Lord and Savior with all your heart and lean not to your own understanding and focus on my love in every situation knowing all is working for your good.

I haven't abandoned you.

We will be together soon.

I will dry all your tears.

I will gather you close as a Momma Hen gathers her chicks close to her.

We will have a Banquet, a Feast of Celebration.

You are my children and my heart breaks as you cry out feeling abandoned and forsakened.

I am as close as your next breath.

Look towards me, gaze into my eyes, and know that you are loved.

I will never leave you nor forsake you and we will spend eternity together in Heaven.

Seek wisdom and understanding as a much valued treasure.

It is in the difficulties of life that one finds the truth.

See the truth and it shall set you free.

Call on me and I will hear you and I will heal your land, but first I will heal your hearts.

Live is for living, not surviving.

In the midst of calamity and chaos, there is peace, hope, and joy.

I love you.

I will never leave you nor abandon you.

I, the God of the Universe reaches down in love and will guide and direct your path when you feel so lost.

I will be your strength.

I will be your courage.

I will fill you with Hope and bring Joy back into your lives if only you seek Me with your whole heart, mind, and soul.

Your hearts will be so grieved and you will be consumed with sadness, and you may find yourself slipping into a pit of despair, know that I love you.

I am coming for your soon.

I have not forgotten you.

I will never leave your nor forsake you.

I did not allow this for your punishment, but what has happened, happened for the Glory of God's Kingdom.

Will you seek Me?

Will you Trust Me?

Will you Love Me?

And, I will build you Faith and you will be filled with Hope.

What was will no longer be.

What is and will be will be so much greater than what you had.

I have come to heal your land.

I want to lead you out of the muck and mire.

I want to lead you to the Precipice of Grace, Truth, and Love.

I love you.

I am coming for you soon.

I know your pain.

I have a plan.

I love you.

I will never leave you nor forsake you.

I will be your Heavenly Father and you are my children.

We will live life together for all eternity.

Seek Me. Find Me. Know Me. Trust Me. Love Me. Have Hope and Life Eternal.

I want you to know that before there was time, before there was a creation, before there was a universe, there was God, your Creator

It is not for the creation to question the plans of the Creator.

It is enough that the creation knows that the Creator loves the creation.

Not all the plans of the Creator can the creation understand.

But as the creation yields its will more and more to the ways of the Creator, then it will understand with a deeper understanding and it will trust with a deeper trust, and love with a deeper love, and have hope, overflowing to endure any difficulties that come.

I know you will question my love for you for allowing so much pain and suffering to come upon you.

Bring all your hurt, all your pain, all your sorrow, and all your grief; all your disappointment, discouragement, disillusionment, and more that you wrestle with, to Me. I promise to take them all.

Open up your hearts and receive my love for you.

Life is for living, not surviving and I have a plan far greater than anything you have had before.

I want to revive you.

I want to rejuvenate you.

I want to revitalize you.

I want to regenerate what once was.

A New Day is coming. It will be full of light, life, and overwhelming Hope to overflowing.

The New Day will be a day of believing the unbelievable and receiving the inconceivable.

Those who caused such destruction will know that the God of the Bible is the one true God.

What they meant for destruction, the Creator of the Universe allowed for His Glory and good.

I Love you.

I am coming soon and we will spend Eternity in Heaven together.

I will spend Eternity wiping away any tears that fall from your eyes.

No man knows the time of my return, but it will be very, very soon.

The devastation that is coming (or is already here) is the beginning of my return for My people.

Keep looking up for your Redemption is near.

I Love You.

I will lead you in your time in the wilderness.

I will be there to guide you as I did the Israelites in the desert.

I will provide fire/passion to light your path.

Like a mother hen, I will call to you and gather you under My wings of protection.

As you seek Me, I will replace all the fear, sorrow, and pain with Hope and Joy, unspeakable.

My arms yearn for your embrace.

My heart breaks for your pain and sorrow.

I love you so much.

Life is for living and not surviving.

I wait patiently with my arms wide open ready to embrace you.

You are forgiven.

You are my Heavenly sons and daughters.

Thank you for your courage and holding onto Hope.

Love that I give you, it is a love that understands, it seeks, it grieves.

The kind of love that I give, provides strength, hope wisdom, but most of all showers my love onto those who are weak, shattered, and may even appear broken.

The kind of love that I give emerges from a seed, is nurtured, and grows.

The kind of love that I give is in the heart of one who truly seeks to learn of Me; one who is a vessel yielded to be molded by my hand.

The kind of love that I give is in the heart of the one who mourns for what they see in the world and longs for a place far from their imaginations; a place of eternal comfort and love; a place of unconditional acceptance and approval; a place where there are no outsiders or strangers; a place of pure and everlasting contentment;; without the imprisonments of desire. There truly is a place. It is a place of beauty and imagination. It is a place to be sought with all your heart. There truly is a place, my child.
