

“THE NEW DAY”

“First will come the Darkness, and then Morning will come”

At this time, I want to share with you writings that I was given mainly around 2008, regarding the “New Day.” As a result of these writings, my heart is set on focusing on the “New Day,” no matter the difficulties that come between now and that time. From 1/27/2008: “...When the fire falls to the ground, so will My love fall on My people. And a “New Day” will begin. First, will come the darkness of midnight and then morning will come and light will begin to blaze. Singing will be heard unlike ever heard before. Joy will begin to take its place and begin to spread. There’s coming a great time of Harvest! They will know Me and Hope will pour out overflowing from their hearts.”

At this point, I want to share more about the “birthing process of the New Day.” From a writing dated 1/8/2008: “... Debbie, look out your window this morning to the tranquility of the light blue hue of sky and the mound of hill facing you with shadows streaming across the top and to the bottom. On one hand, you see signs of the Sun beaming on the hill and at the same time, dark trails made by shadows across the ground. The dark shadows emerge, but as the Sunlight becomes stronger, the dark shadows will disappear. So will it be in the time of the “New Day.” The selfishness and self centeredness of even My people has cast dark shadows. Even though the Sun is shining, its brightness is not strong enough to cast out the darkness. The pollution of man’s heart with the ways of the world has cast shadows in the places where there should be purity and strength and My people beaming light from within to the outside - shining night and day with a beacon of Hope.

Why do you sit in isolation and seclusion? Why have others allowed their flames to be terminated? And, why have others terminated the beating of so many little one’s hearts? What has happened to My children? Where once a great beam of light streamed across your nation - shown as the torch of liberty, it has been covered with shadows of deceit, hate, and discontent. Debbie, they say they are generous and philanthropic yet they do not know Me. I am love yet they do not know that which they say they are. They do not go in My name. If they do not go in My name, then they go in darkness. What can they do/accomplish without My love? Unconditional love casts out all fears. The shadows are long and far reaching. The “New Day” will bring forth powerful light. Those who have been in the shadows will come forth in the light. The light beaming forth will light the dimmest of a flicker and it will burn strong. The shadows will start to diminish as the light reaches and covers even into the corners where the dark shadow hides. It will be a day beginning with recovery and then rejuvenation and vitality as truth is revealed and revelation begins to spread.

It will be a day of vitality as regeneration begins to come forth from the shadows. It will be a day of vitality as Hope saturates with its warmth and the light of men’s hearts burn ablaze with the love of their God and Savior. It will be a day of vitality as Repentance is heard across your land. Men will turn from the ways of the world and seek to find the love of their Heavenly Father. The birthing of the “New Day” will be the worst of your fears. But once the “New Day” has come, it will be a time of Rejoicing, Rejoicing, Rejoicing. And, they will know I Love Them and I am their Heavenly Father and I will be ready to gather them unto Me.”

From 2/9/2008: “...Look out, Debbie. Look out as far as your eyes can see. What lies, stretched before you is a sea of despair; a canyon filled with people crawling in the muck and mire trying to protect what they have determined is valuable. ... Debbie, all they have assigned as value will disappear in the matter of one hour. It will all be gone. They will beg. They will cry. They will get angry. They will accuse the innocent and blame anyone they can find. Yet it will no longer be. The migration through the sea of despair will empty. They will scatter - running to and fro. They will stampede, stomping anyone in their path. They will rage. They will feel lost and abandoned. Very few will have a plan; they never believed that the impossible was possible. They will grieve. They will cry. ... They will be filled with hate and discontent. They will be like addicts in detox. They will moan and groan, not understanding they are alive.

Teach them: Life is for living not Surviving. They are loved by the Creator of the Universe whose desire is to shower His love on them. This was not My making nor did I speak this into being. It was evil and I will take what was meant for their destruction and I will turn it all for good. Every day is to be celebrated. Every day has treasure. They are to be treasure hunters; seeking the nuggets found in God’s Kingdom. Today is about their captivity; the “New Day” is about their freedom. I will pour out My love on them and I will give them great and mighty gifts according to My riches in Glory. Teach them the Path of Life. Tell them if they will be My children, I will be their Father, but they must seek Me with their whole heart, mind, body, and soul. Those who love the Father seek Him.”

From 6/2/2008: "... It is not the heart of one who hasn't walked the Path of Life and who does not know of My ways that will see the Great Storm coming. It takes one with a heart overflowing with Hope that believes with their Heart. One can read the newspaper and listen to the news broadcasts and never see the truth. One can see the truth that one believes to be true, but until one has eyes of compassion, ears of compassion, and understanding of the Heart, one can be blinded/deceived by what others say to be true. My ways are difficult, Debbie. They require a pureness of the Heart; void of the lusts and fears of the world. My people are so encapsulated in the world's ways that truth has been replaced with deception. What once was, will no longer be. As the hold the world has on My people and the hold they have on the world is severed, their Heart's will be open to receive the truth. And I will be able to lead them as I have you. Remember it is not perfection that I seek - it is Compassion. Men have deceived and manipulated others by developing their own interpretations and have enslaved others with policies and procedures - perfection. Eyes have seen and ears have heard yet hearts remain deceived in layers and layers of deception. ... When darkness looks as though it has overtaken the light, a song of Hope will emerge. Just as a newborn cries out and announces its arrival, so shall a song cry out and announce the arrival of a "New Day." Miracles, Prosperity, Joy, unspeakable, an awakening of Hearts filled overflowing with Hope and Love will burst forth. God's Kingdom will bloom and saturate your nation with the fragrance of God's Love. As harsh as evil's destruction, so will the Joy of the "New Day." Cleansed, the old will disappear and the "New" will Shine Bright!"

3/18/2008: "... There are tests and trials to not only be endured but are to be overcome and celebrated having been completed with Thanksgiving. My people perish for they know not of My love. As they begin to see (experience) My love for them, they will see Me as their provider, their shield, their comforter, their teacher, and their Heavenly Father. Debbie, I long to hear them call out My name; not because they are afraid or frustrated or exasperated or are in need, but because they want to share their lives with Me. I want to hear their hopes and dreams. I want to show them all I have ready for them. I want them to be overflowing with Hope. I want to see them shine with My love as it is reflected from Me to them and shone onto others. I want them to be filled with joy overflowing in Praise and Worship, breaking forth with happiness and a Heart filled with love and Hope. It want to give them the desires of their hearts.

You know the feelings of desolation, the brokenness, the longings, the sadness and the grief and overwhelming fear. Your nation will experience what only a few will be ready to overcome. Change will be overwhelming. But with Change will emerge a "New Day." The "New Day" will bring about all that the storm has left lacking. The "New Day" will be a Season of Hope. What was, will no longer be, but what is, will be unbelievable/unimaginable. As harsh as the path of the storm was, the "New Day" Season of Hope will be Jubilant! Freedom will ring across your nation. ... When all looks dark and hopeless, the "New Day" is being birthed."

From 5/26/2008: "... In the midst of devastation, as in the midst of all tragedy, will be Opportunity. This was not My making nor did I speak this into existence. This was evil - planned and carried out by men consumed by evil for the destruction of what they defined as evil. What evil has meant for your nation's destruction, I will turn around for good. I will set those who are captive to their addictions and deceptions, free, and teach them how to live life more abundantly (life lived from the Blue Print that is engraved on each of their hearts.) ... When they ask who warned you and why did you prepare when others did not? Let them know that God Loves You and He loves all those who seek to find Him and learn of His ways. That he gave His Son, Jesus, and that who believes in Him shall have everlasting life. Tell them about the "New Day" coming. Seek the Lord and He will direct them through the darkness to the "New Day." The "New Day" will provide Hope to Overflowing - Abundant Life..."

From 12/15/2007: "... The "New Day" will produce all that you have ever hoped for. The days prior will be days of cleansing of sanctifying of grieving and mourning. It will be a time of birthing a "New Day;" a day of starting over. A day with new focus. It will be a day where old nature will be replaced with a zeal; a zest; a vitality of new Hope never discovered. New treasure never uncovered. New life never partaken. There will be a time for laughter. Time for love. Time for hope. It is not I who brings disaster on My people. But I will take what was meant by evil and their destruction and I will resurrect what has since died and breathe new life into it. For the ashes that fall, I will cause Joy, Hope, Love to indwell all My people. I will supply power and strength as they have never known. I will build My people and they will in turn build My Kingdom on Earth overflowing with Hope, Love and Joy. So you are not to focus on the disaster coming because it must come, but focus on the "New Day" - the new birth; the resurrection, the breathing of life into that which has died."

3/8/2008: "... It will be a day you wish you could forget or erase from your memory. It will be a day of great sorrow; mourning will be heard across your land. All that was to prevent will fail. Debbie, buildings will collapse. Financial institutions will collapse. Even hearts will collapse from the shock. Debbie, this was not My making; this was not My hand nor did I speak this tragedy; this was designed by evil. This was carried out by men whose only desire is to spread more evil. There will be a time when it looks as though evil has succeeded. Evil will spread from the cities to the countryside from one ocean across your nation to the other. And when it looks as though all is hopeless, a song will start to stir in the land. It will begin in the least unexpected places and the song will spread. It will start to stir the hearts where once only a flicker has been left. It will start to ignite; a fire of passion will start to roar in My children's hearts. Where deception layered upon deception in their hearts had hid the truth, passion will set their hearts ablaze and My people will rise up with new life and new plans and new dreams, all which had been engraved on their Hearts. Debbie, the "New Day" will emerge as the Spring springs forth in all its majesty and beauty with Hope of a new life. Debbie, you know of the journey process. Share"

From 11/24/2007: "... All will be affected in some way. I will never leave not even one; they are My children. The dark cloud will loose its fury on the unsuspecting. The devastation of unimaginable proportions will remain. And, My grace and Glory and Love will cover in abundance; saturating every corner of the land. I will not forsake My children. They will not be like beggars. My children will rise out of the ashes as kings; ready to assume the position as dominion over My Kingdom on the Earth. A "New Day" is being birthed. Behind the dark cloud, the Sun is rising. A "New Day" is coming unlike any day seen thus far."

2/4/2008: "Do you know Me, Debbie? Do you know Me? Do you really, really know Me? Then know that it is not My desire any harm come to My people. Debbie, like the Tsunami came, so is devastation coming to your nation. It will come as fast as the Tsunami, the force will be multiple times more powerful. It will not be water that cleanses, but it will be a purifying fire. As the fire falls to the ground, so will My purifying fire. As evil is unleashed; spreading and covering like a flood, My Glory will also be flooding your nation. It will not be about punishment; it will be about God's love. Those who are prisoners have never had the opportunity of knowing freedom. I have come to set the captives free." Debbie asks: "Lord, how will they respond to the great loss and pain?" His response: "Debbie, I am the Creator of the Universe and they are My creations. I will gather all of them under Me like a hen with chicks and they will know I love them. Debbie, I did not cause the devastation - it was evil...."

From 12/26/2007: "... The darkness will come and it too will pass. As the "New Day" emerges, as in the Spring, evidence will become apparent. You will see signs blossoming and bursting forth. Watch for Hearts being renewed. Watch for singing to return. Watch for Hope being instilled in My people. As Hope beings to blossom, passion will ignite. As passion ignites, a fire will burn in the Hearts of My people. It will be an all consuming fire that ignites anything and anyone in its path. But not with a fire of destruction but of Hope everlasting. The fire will spread quickly enveloping even the most difficult convert. The fire will be so overwhelming that the weakest of the weak will rise up. Debbie, the fire will consume with white hot purifying fire that will engulf and destroy the trappings that enslave their hearts. Debbie, there is coming a Great Day. A day of birth of a "New Day." A day/a "New Day" that starts the greatest REVIVAL. Debbie, will you tell them I Love Them. Will you tell them I haven't abandoned them or forgotten them. Will you tell them that this too shall pass. Will you tell them that life is for living not surviving. Will you share with them all I have shared with you." Always remember: From 12/27/2007 and many other writings: "... Do not fear. Do not let your senses deceive you. Before the night falls, as the fire falls in the day so shall the Glory of the Lord empowering My people with love and power. I will never leave nor forsake not one." From 11/25/2008: "...A "New Day" comes after the long winter storm. The darkness of evil will have no place to hide when the light of the "New Day" starts to burst forth. When My people call out My name, I will hear them and I will heal their land...." (2nd Chronicles 7:14)

Recipes for Living/Thriving Tips

Today is September 11, a date that those of us who were alive at the time of the attack on our nation, will never forget. This message was begun more than a week ago when the Lord showed me it was time to share about the “New Day.” After reading for hours through writings, I chose and included portions of about a third of the writings that I keep in a section (entitled “New Day” from around 2007—2009.)

During this past week, I have been hearing prophetic voices sharing about what I was shown many years ago as the “New Day.” One of those is Lana Vawser* from Australia; she shares about the “New Era.” I believe what she shares to be true. There are others as well. We can all be JUBILANT for the time that is coming when we will draw close to the Lord and I have been shown that we will be shed of our Strongholds, Defenses, Deceptions and Addictions and will be led by the Holy Spirit—no longer captive to the world’s ways, but we will live our lives more abundantly following God’s Ways. I have been waiting for such a day even before 2008.

But today I was reminded by another prophetic voice of a concern of mine. You see, there will be a transition time between now and the “New Day” as we shed our Strongholds, Defenses, Deceptions, and Addictions, and as we are set free from the captivity of the ways of the world/the way we live our lives currently. We have to be prepared to understand each message and be prepared to endure. Before the Lord shared with me about the “New Day,” He gave me just as many writings (I have an entire section of those as well and portions of many shared at this website) about the “Great Storm” that is coming. In order to thrive through the “Great Storm” to reach the “New Day” we have to be prepared - not only with physical items such as food, water, and everything we share in “Practical Prepping God’s Way,” - we must be prepared Spiritually, Mentally, and Emotionally. We have to seek the Lord with our whole heart, mind, and soul (100%) and we have to learn to love our neighbor as we love our self, as we have been commanded to do in Luke 10:27. (“Deprogramming and Reprogramming our heart, mind, and soul” located at this website can provide understanding to help with that, as can “The Path to Overflowing Hope”). God tells us that He is a jealous God. Deut 5:8-9. Remember and be ready for “life as lived it to cease.” That doesn’t mean we “cease,” it means the world system will “cease,” and if we are attached to it, then we will suffer tremendously. And, yes, during this transition time, many will cease to be on this planet as well.

So, embrace the wonderful/beautiful message about the “New Day/New Era” and rejoice. But also brace yourself, in all ways, for the difficulties that are coming. And, remember the transition is a process - a journey process. My journey took almost 13 years. But more than anything I have shared, here, know that GOD LOVES YOU and He will never leave you nor forsake you. Joshua 1:5 It will not be by His hand that we will suffer difficulties, it will be men who are deceived by evil, as I have been shown at least 100 times in my writings. But also know, in the midst, focus on the “New Day/New Era,” for that is His promise to us.
