

The Approaching Horses

and God's Promise to His People; A Sign - the Rainbow!!!

I received a writing* on 5/14/19, that caused me to re-visit some other writings – what I call a progression of the horses. I thought it would be a help to you to share a few segments from those writings. This is 6/20/2019 and a US drone was shot down today.

From Christmas Day, 12/25/2017: "... Do you hear the chatter of the riders on the horses?... I shared with you to listen to the chatter of the riders of the horses. The horses were the nations and the riders, the nation's leaders. Debbie there is a black horse; there is a red horse; and there is a green horse and the riders are all sending the same message – WAR. ... Debbie, there are horses with riders making preparations to annihilate those I love .... It is not just one rider who is shouting of war; listen to the riders. Your nation is vulnerable in ways you know not how. Stay prepared. Stay ready. ...."

From 5/3/2018: "... Do you hear the footsteps (Note: no longer hoof beats) that now have come to overcome your nation? The riders are no longer on horses, they have dismounted and now are walking among your leaders. ...."

From 8/1/2018: "... Do you hear the sounds of war approaching? It is no longer the sounds of the hoof beats, the horses have taken their places. ...."

From 8/18/2018: "... There are those who have visited and shared your web site. But for the most part, My people are blind as the great storm approaches that will devastate so many. Debbie, what you know you know to be true. What they know, at the most is speculation. ... The riders will mount up on their horses once more, having been unable to meet the terms of one another. This time there will be no stopping." (Note: Remember the NK/USA Summit in Vietnam with KJU and Pres. Trump that took place on Feb. 26-27, 2019.)

And the reason I have shared this progression. From 5/14/2019: "... Remember I shared with you about the Red, Green, and Black Horses. (Note: interesting white horse is not mentioned.) They are ready, Debbie. They are ready to take "what is as it should be." So what about your heart? Is it ready? How does one prepare for a time when "as it should be" becomes "no longer?"

(the writing continued) "You will still see rainbows and green grass, pastures, and trees. The Rhododendron will continue to bloom and remind you of your first home – a time of freedom (Note: my youth.) The seeds you plant will come up in the beds you plant them in. Some things will remain "as they should be," but other things will be "what they never were meant to be" when "what was never to happen happened." Prepare your heart to know what you know and know you know it. No matter what, "I will never leave you nor forsake you." Whatever you do, wherever you go, know I will be with you for this is "as it is." This is your HOPE. Much will be lost, but much will still remain. It is the treasure you must seek. The RAINBOW is a promise given to be admired but also remembered of My love for My people. The treasure in each day must be sought for it is given to be admired and also remembered of My love for My people. Seek the treasure. For in seeking the treasure, you capture it in your heart. A heart filled with treasure is one filled overflowing with Hope for this is "as it is.""

Just wanted to share. It was a couple days before this writing, we saw the most magnificent rainbow that had its end on our property. The colors were so vivid/brilliant – we have never ever seen one like this; one which appeared in the midst of the dreariest/stormy time of day.

Debbie

*As many of you know from reading this website, I have received writings since 1998. I have over 40 lbs of yellow legal size paper that contain these handwritten writings which I believe are given by the Lord through the Holy Spirit. I shared this "progression" in the form of an email with a friend, hoping it would help him prepare his family for what is coming. He suggested and I agreed that I should share with you—especially the message of Hope—God's Promise to His people in the sign of the Rainbow.